presents the second season of
PROSPECTS: an evening of dance and discussion

Local art patrons are invited to join regional choreographers of contemporary dance to explore themes of identity, relationship and connection in a casual, intimate setting

Wednesday September 25, 2019, Burlington, ON - Aeris Körper is proud to present the second season and sixth edition of PROSPECTS: an evening of dance and discussion. PROSPECTS brings together local enthusiasts of art and dance with choreographers from the local, regional and international dance community to cultivate creative community dialogue.

Audience members will witness new and in-progress contemporary dance works whose themes will provide the foundation for the evening's dialogue, "IDENTITY: How do we define ourselves? How does our cultural background define us?" Each work will be followed by a Q&A discussion led by each choreographer, giving the audience an opportunity to ask questions, provide feedback and further examine the ideas presented. There will also be an opportunity to provide written feedback.

"This interactive, informal event brings together community members to share ideas, to learn about contemporary dance and to bring life to the local arts in Burlington," said Lisa Emmons, Artistic Director.

Works will be presented by featured guest choreographers:

Shannon Kitchings
Gavin Law
SaMel Tanz
Dana Macdonald
